Important Information for Buyers

All lots are offered subject to Morton & Eden Ltd.'s Conditions of Business and to reserves.

Estimates are published as a guide only and are subject to review. The actual hammer price of a lot may well be higher or lower than the range of figures given and there are no fixed "starting prices".

A Buyer's Premium of 15% is applicable to all lots in this sale. Excepting lots sold under Temporary Import rules which are marked with the symbol ‡ (see below), the Buyer's Premium is subject to VAT at the standard rate (currently 17½%). Unless otherwise indicated, lots are offered for sale under the auctioneer's margin scheme and VAT on the Buyer's Premium is payable by all buyers.

‡ Lots marked with this symbol have been imported from outside the European Union (EU) to be sold at auction under Temporary Import Rules. When released to buyers within the EU, including the UK, the buyer will become the importer and must pay import VAT at the rate of 5% on the hammer price in addition to the normal 17.5% on the Buyer's Premium. Buyers outside the EU will not be required to pay temporary import VAT provided that satisfactory documentary evidence of exportation is obtained. Please note that this information has been updated to reflect changes in UK legislation introduced on 1 September 2006.

Morton & Eden Ltd. will be pleased to execute bids on behalf of those clients unable to attend the sale in person, subject to our Conditions of Business. All bids must be submitted in good time in writing and lots will always be purchased as cheaply as possible (depending on any other bids received, reserves and competition in the saleroom). This service is offered free of charge.

Morton & Eden Ltd. can supply quotations for the shipping of purchases, including transit insurance and VAT refund administration fees, and will assist in the application for any export licences which may be required. Buyers are reminded that it is their responsibility to comply with UK export regulations and with any local import requirements.

*Illustrated lots are marked with an asterisk. Additional images of some items may be available online.

WAR MEDALS, ORDERS AND DECORATIONS

Wednesday 10 June 2009 starting at 10.00 am

RUSSIAN IMPERIAL ORDERS

1001

*Order of St. Andrew, a single Imperial Eagle link from a Collar, by Keibel, St. Petersburg, before 1898, in gold and enamels, 54 x 44mm, some enamel damage to scroll, otherwise better than very fine £1,500-2,000

1002

*Order of St. Alexander Nevsky, set of insignia, by Albert Keibel, St. Petersburg, 1896-1908, comprising Sash Badge, in gold and enamels, 61 x 55.5mm and Breast Star, in silver, silver-gilt and enamels, 90mm, very little evidence of wear but with some toning, good extremely fine; together with a later sash (lot)

*Order of St. Alexander Nevsky, jewelled Breast star, apparently unmarked, probably late 19th Century, in gold, silver, pastes and enamels, with articulated and sprung rays and Imperial Crown above legend; the central medallion of non-Christian type and believed to be a later adaptation, reverse fitted with eight eyelets at the points for suspension, and also with a brooch-pin bearing the engraved number '37.', 96.5mm, three or four small pastes missing, centre probably replaced and legend misaligned, good very fine £10,000-15,000

1004

*Order of St. George, an impaired Fourth Class Breast Badge, without a maker's mark and therefore possibly privately-made, with a pre-1896 St. Petersburg '56' assay mark on suspension ring, in gold and enamels, 40mm (including suspension ring) x 35mm, white enamel entirely removed from the lower arm on reverse, otherwise good very fine, with riband £4,000-6,000

1005

*Order of St. George, Fourth Class Breast Badge, by Eduard, St. Petersburg, in gold and enamels, Great War period, with crudely-painted central medallion, 39mm (including suspension ring) x 35.2mm, polished, very fine to good very fine; in a contemporary red paper-covered case with Imperial eagle on the lid, lacking internal hinged insert, otherwise very fine
£4,000-6,000

*Order of St. George, Fourth Class Breast Badge, a European-made version in silver-gilt and enamels, ball-type suspension with closed loop carrier, 45.5mm (including suspension ball) x 40.5mm, rather discoloured and has been lacquered, good very fine, with riband £1,000-1,500

1007

*Order of St. Vladimir, Military Division, First Class Badge of 'bulbous' style, marks on suspension loop indistinct but including Φ and believed made or retailed by Fabergé, St. Petersburg, assayer's mark of Yakob Lyapunov, 1899, in gold and enamels and of excellent quality, 63.6mm (including suspension ring) x 58.8mm, both sword-hilts now missing and right-hand sword blade loose; some flaking to black enamel at reverse centre but otherwise with only light overall wear and extremely fine, very rare £20,000-30,000

Provenance: PRINCESS OLGA PAVLOVNA DJORDJADZÉ (1913-2007), née PRINCESS STCHERBATOV, the daughter of Prince Paul Borissovich Stcherbatov and his wife (née Princess Anna Wladimirovna Bariatinsky). See also lots 1032, 1095 and 1102.

*Order of St. Vladimir, Military Division, Third Class Neck Badge, by Eduard, St. Petersburg, 1908-17, in gold and enamels, probably Great War period, 48mm (including suspension ring) x 43.5mm, red enamel with surface scuffs, good very fine
£7,000-10,000

*Order of St. Vladimir, Military Division, Fourth Class Breast Badge, maker's mark on the suspension loop indistinct [possibly by Albert Keibel, but of atypical style] but with clear St. Petersburg kokoshnik for 1908-17 period, in gold and enamels; the piece of the "large centre" style usually associated with earlier badges, 42.3mm (including suspension loop) x 37.5mm, *gold detail from the etched enamel obverse centre now lost and with some damage and repair to the black enamel on reverse, very fine to good very fine; with original riband bow including contemporary mounting clip by the retailer B.I. Novikov

£3,000-4,000*

*Order of St. Vladimir, Military Division, Fourth Class Breast Badge, by Eduard, St. Petersburg, in gold and enamels, probably early Great War period, 39mm (including suspension ring) x 35mm, extremely fine; together with red morocco case of issue with gold-blocked Imperial eagle on the lid, this slightly marked but also in extremely fine condition

£8,000-12,000

*Order of St. Vladimir, Military Division, Fourth Class Badge, a late Great War period award in bronze-gilt and enamels, 39mm (including suspension ring) x 35mm, extremely fine, with riband £700-1,000

*Order of St. Vladimir, Military Division, Fourth Class Badge, a European-made late Great War period 'large centre' piece, in bronze-gilt and enamels, 45.5mm (including ball- or barrel-type suspension ring) x 39.5mm, with well-painted central medallion, some enamel loss at reverse centre and with a few hairlines to enamel elsewhere, good very fine, with riband

*Order of St. Vladimir, Civil Division, Breast Star, by VI.O, St. Petersburg, before 1896, in parcel-gilt silver and enamels, 79mm, centre restored, repaired (?) and re-enamelled, good very fine to extremely fine £5,000-7,000

1014

*Order of St. Vladimir, Civil Division, Second Class Neck Badge, a European-made version in silver-gilt and enamels, of good quality heavy construction, the body of the piece being formed from two halves joined at the edges, with applied painted centres, reverse lettering in gold, 57.5mm (including suspension ring) x 53.5mm, good very fine, with riband

*Order of St. Anne, Third Class Breast Badge, by Kämmerer and Keibel, St. Petersburg, 1836-41, with Court supplier's mark beneath enamel and dated 18-- on suspension ring, in gold and enamels, 38mm (including suspension ring) x 33.5mm, hairline crack across central medallion on reverse and has been polished, good very fine; offered in contemporary red leather case, this with moderate wear £4,000-6,000

1016

*Order of St. Anne, Military Division, Second Class Neck Badge, by Eduard, St. Petersburg, in gold and enamels, Great War period, 48mm (including suspension ring) x 43.8mm, a few marks, generally good very fine, with length of neck riband; together with correct red paper-covered case of issue, lacking one spacer-piece and with some wear, about very fine condition £5,000-7,000

1017

*Order of St. Anne, Military Division, Third Class Breast Badge, by Albert Keibel, St. Petersburg, 1882-98 period, in gold and enamels, 39mm (including suspension ring) x 34.2mm, red enamelwork possibly restored and repolished, otherwise good very fine £1,200-1,500

1018

*Order of St. Anne, Military Division, Third Class Breast Badge, by Albert Keibel, St. Petersburg, before 1898, in gold and enamels, 39.3mm (including suspension ring) x 34.2mm, solder mark on reverse of left upper sword, good very fine £1,200-1,500

1019

*Order of St. Anne, Military Division, Fourth Class Badge, in bronze-gilt with laminated gold and red enamel surface layer, including the crown, 30.3mm (including suspension ring) x 19.3mm, almost half of the enamelwork lost or damaged, otherwise good very fine £1,500-2,000

‡1020

*Order of St. Anne, Military Division, Fourth Class Badge, with integral suspension ring, in solid bronze-gilt and red enamel, reverse numbered (N° 207) and also enamelled in red, 35.6mm (including suspension) x 20mm, good very fine £600-800

1021

*Order of St. Anne, Civil Division, Second Class Neck Badge, by Eduard, St. Petersburg, workmaster's mark ИЛ (circa 1898-1908), in gold and enamels and of good quality, marked with kokoshniks on suspension ring and on two filigree decorations in the upper angles, 49.2mm (including suspension ring) x 44.5mm, hairline crack to reverse central medallion and with a few surface knocks to the red enamel, good very fine

1022

*Order of St. Anne, Civil Division, Third Class Breast Badge, by Albert Keibel, St. Petersburg, with assayer's mark of Yakov Lyapunov (1899-1903), in gold and enamels, 39.5mm (including suspension ring) x 35mm, extremely fine £700-1,000

1023

*Order of St. Anne, Civil Division, Third Class Breast Badge, by Albert Keibel, St. Petersburg, also with assayer's mark of Yakov Lyapunov (1899-1903), in gold and enamels, 40mm (including suspension ring) x 35mm, reverse centre loose, good very fine £600-800

1024

*Order of St. Anne, Civil Division, Third Class Breast Badge, by Albert Keibel, St. Petersburg, 1882-96 period, in gold and enamels, 39mm (including suspension ring) x 34.3mm, a restored badge, with some damage to central portrait of the Saint and with the red enamel of right-hand arm of reverse entirely replaced, very fine

1025

£500-1,000

*Order of St. Anne, a European-made Military 'black' Breast Star with Crown, in silver, with applied silver-gilt crossed swords, silver-gilt and very dark blue enamelled centre, and applied silver-gilt and enamel crown above; of convex form in the European manner and with the reverse ungilt, plain backplate but with uncertain marks on the lowest and on the two lateral points, vertical brooch-pin for suspension, 83mm, minor enamel loss at centre around the legend, good very fine
£3,000-5,000

*Order of St. Stanislaus, Military Division, Third Class, 'double-sided' Breast Badge, maker's mark AP., St. Petersburg, with kokoshnik of assayer AP (A. Rikhter or A. Romanov, 1898-1908), in gold and enamels, with swords detailed on both sides, 44mm (including suspension ring) x 42.8mm, extremely fine, with small riband
£10,000-15,000

*Order of St. Stanislaus, Military Division, an impaired Second Class Neck Badge, by Eduard, St. Petersburg, 1908-17, in gold and enamels, with kokoshnik-marked swords of correct pattern which have been cut down 4mm short of the centre and have also been pierced through the blades (the procedure presumably undertaken to enhance the appearance of the badge when being worn), 53mm (including suspension ring) x 49mm, enamel flake missing from one upper point, generally very fine£2,000-2,500

1029

*Order of St. Stanislaus, Military Division, an impaired Third Class Breast Badge, by Wilhelm Keibel, St. Petersburg, with illegible datemark on suspension ring (1861?), in gold and enamels, 40.5mm (including suspension ring) x 38.1mm, original swords truncated at the tops of the crowns of the Imperial eagles (thereby giving the appearance, at first sight, of a Civil badge), moderate overall wear, very fine £2,000-2,500

1030

*Order of St. Stanislaus, Military Division, an impaired Third Class Breast Badge, by Julius Keibel, St. Petersburg, undeciphered date on suspension ring (before 1882), in gold and enamels, 41mm (including suspension ring) x 38mm, swords probably added at a later date and suspension ring re-soldered, about very fine£800-1,200

1031

*Order of St. Stanislaus, Breast Star, by Keibel, St. Petersburg, before 1898, in silver, silver-gilt and enamels; an original Civil Division star with later crossed swords added above the centre and fixed by means of a small screwpost, 87.5mm, good very fine £2,500-3,000

1032

*Order of St. Stanislaus, Civil Division, Second Class, a 'double-sided' Neck Badge of high quality, indistinct maker's mark (possibly including K) on suspension ring but with clear St. Petersburg kokoshnik of assayer AP (probably A. Rikhter, 1898-1903), in gold and enamels with obverse central wreath in silver and silver-gilt, finely-worked on both sides including detailed double-sided Imperial eagles, 58mm (including suspension ring) x 56.3mm, some wear and minor faults, including enamel loss from lower arm of cross on obverse, missing a cap from one ball-tip and central SS medallion on reverse with an edge chip, good very fine overall £12,000-15,000

Provenance: PRINCESS OLGA PAVLOVNA DJORDJADZÉ (1913-2007), née PRINCESS STCHERBATOV, the daughter of Prince Paul Borissovich Stcherbatov and his wife (née Princess Anna Wladimirovna Bariatinsky). See also lots 1007, 1095 and 1102.

1033

*Order of St. Stanislaus, Civil Division, Second Class Neck Badge, by Julius Keibel, St. Petersburg, circa 1870-80, in gold and enamels, 49.8mm (including suspension ring) x 45mm, original suspension ring presumably broken and lost, now fitted with a replacement pinned (i.e. not soldered) suspension ring, otherwise good very fine, with neck riband £2,500-3,000

1034

*Order of St. Stanislaus, Civil Division, Second Class Neck Badge, by Eduard, St. Petersburg, with workmaster's mark ИЛ (circa 1898-1908) and assayer's mark A[P], in gold and enamels, 49.5mm (including suspension ring) x 48mm, hairline crack to reverse centre and with surface marks on reverse, very fine, with riband

£1,200-1,500

*Order of St. Stanislaus, Civil Division, Second Class Neck Badge, by Eduard, St. Petersburg, a similar piece, also with workmaster's mark ИЛ (circa 1898-1908) and assayer's mark [A]P, in gold and enamels, 51mm (including suspension ring) x 48mm, heavily cleaned and both centres worn, generally very fine
£1,000-1,200

*Order of St. Stanislaus, Civil Division, Third Class Breast Badge, by Eduard, St. Petersburg, 1908-17, in gold and enamels, 42mm, suspension ring removed and has been brooch-mounted, scratch to red enamel on one arm, very fine or good very fine £400-600

1037

*Order of St. Stanislaus, Civil Division, Non-Christian type Breast Star, of low-relief Keibel style but bearing unofficial Eduard marks on the gilt backplate, in silver and enamels, with central medallion of the Imperial eagle in good quality silver-gilt and enamelled in black, red and blue, 88.5mm, very fine£2,000-3,000

1038

*Order of St. Stanislaus, Civil Division, Non-Christian type Breast Star, by Eduard, St. Petersburg, workmaster's mark VIII (circa 1898-1908) and assayer's mark AP, in silver, silver-gilt and enamels, with central silver or silver-gilt medallion of the Imperial eagle rather crudely enamelled in black, red and blue, 87.5mm, some damage to the white enamel beneath legend, brooch-pin probably replaced and with minor losses to enamelwork at centre, probably a later adaptation of a regular issue star for Christian recipients, very fine £2,000-3,000

*An Enamelled Presentation Portrait Badge of Peter the Great, unsigned, third quarter of the 19th Century, the oval portrait of Peter as a young man wearing armour and a cloak mounted in an openwork gold and diamond setting, with hinged crown suspension in gold, diamonds and niello, 84.5mm x 52.5mm, reverse of crown fitted with riband carrier, extremely fine, cased £5,000-10,000

These presentation pieces were first produced in the early 18th Century (cf. Durov, V.A., The Orders of Russia, Moscow, 1993, p. 6) but do not appear to have had official status. The present example is offered with its original custom-made case bearing the name F. Butz – Joaillier & Bijoutier – St. Petersbourg. The firm was founded by Friedrich Daniel Butz, son of the master goldsmith Alexander Franz Butz, and remained active as a manufacturer and supplier of jewellery and orders until circa 1912.

For a very similar portrait in an alternative jewelled setting, see the Foerster Collection, Sotheby's London, 11 May 1999, lot 237.

1115

*Hero of the Soviet Union, Gold Star Medal, type 2, no. 1943, awarded to Timofey Prokof'yevich Handoga, with original suspension and screwplate, very fine, with Order Booklet £4,000-6,000

The Order Booklet (without photograph) indicates that Handoga was also awarded the Order of Lenin, two First Class Orders of the Patriotic War, a Second Class Order of the Patriotic War, the Order of the Red Star and the Order of the Red Banner of Labour. A small copy photograph is also included in the lot.

Born in 1909, TIMOFEY PROKOF'YEVICH HANDOGA was a Ukrainian who trained and worked as an engineer in Kiev. His Army service began in June 1941 and he was awarded the title of Hero of the Soviet Union on 19 March, 1944.

In September 1943 Soviet troops, including the 269th Pavlograd Independent Field Engineers' Battalion, were approaching the River Dniepr near the city of Zaporozhie, Ukraine. The Field Engineers Battalion was given the task of creating a bridgehead to support a crossing of the river by the main forces. Preparations began immediately and work continued day and night. The Battalion Headquarters Commander, Captain Handoga, assumed responsibility for preparing the pontoons and two were ready for use by nightfall on 25 September.

Handoga led the first troops across the river, knowing that the opposite bank was heavily defended by barbed wire and minefields as well as gun emplacements. Careful and determined work by the Soviets resulted in the successful crossing and positioning of one pontoon, whilst the second came under heavy artillery and mortar attack. Handoga quickly ordered his men to abandon the floating pontoon and jump into the river. They were then able to join their colleagues under cover of the first, moored pontoon and the two groups attacked the enemy fortifications together.

Under such an audacious and unexpected Soviet attack, the enemy initially retreated before regrouping for a counterattack. This developed into hand-to-hand combat and the Soviet soldiers fought resolutely, forcing a second retreat with 70 enemy casualties. Captain Handoga immediately ordered his miners to lay about 400 mines which proved highly effective in further enemy counterattacks, and these were halted in due course.

The bridgehead was established for further Soviet advance, all made possible by the bravery and courage of the Soviet troops under Captain Handoga's command.

*Hero of the Soviet Union, Gold Star Medal, type 2, no. 2213, with original suspension and screwplate, very fine

£4,000-6,000

*Hero of Socialist Labour, Gold Sickle and Hammer Medal, type 2, no. 3551, awarded to Grigoriy Alekseevich Gvasalia in 1949, with original suspension and screwplate, original suspension loop broken and replaced with a soft-soldered substitute, otherwise good very fine; with Identification Booklet including small-sized award document £1,500-2,000

1118

*Order of Lenin, type 1 'Tractor' issue (1930-34), impressed no. 168, in silver, silver-gilt and red enamel, with гознак mintmark below brass screwpost on tiered brass base, with correct brass-centred screwplate, light overall wear including a few surface marks, generally good very fine, very rare£18,000-22,000

1119

Order of Lenin, type 5, variation 1, no. 15721, with 5-sided suspension; an impaired badge with the reverse heavily tooled (see footnote), reverse damaged, otherwise very fine or better £500-700

The number of the badge falls within the later screwback period, 1942-3. A possible explanation is that an original screwback was lost and replaced by (or was exchanged by the recipient for) the new suspension type. It may then have been remounted as the earlier type (i.e. screwback) award, and traces of solder remaining around the mintmark perhaps support this hypothesis. At a later date it was evidently reconverted to 5-sided suspension, the original loop having been retained, and the reverse was rather crudely 'repaired'. In spite of the tooling the number appears to be correct and unaltered.

Order of the October Revolution, no. 18977 (McDaniel variation 1), good very fine

£250-300

1121

*Order of the Red Banner of the R.S.F.S.R., no. 11288, in silver and red and white enamels, first type, screwback suspension, with number hand-engraved on reverse and also stamped on backplate (McDaniel type 1), the correct and original backplate rather crudely adapted to form a 'spinner' using a soldered unofficial nut, threads of screwpost worn and tip of torch-staff broken from lower left, fine or good fine and rare

£5,000-6,000

Offered with a certificate of authenticity and appraisal by Historical Research L.L.C. (graded "7 out of a possible 10 for condition").

‡1122

*Order of the Red Banner, for Second Award, type 3 'circular' issue, hand-engraved no. 11312 (McDaniel type 3, variety 1), with a casting fault visible on reverse along the line of the torch-staff, good very fine
£400-600

1123

*Order of the Red Banner, for Fourth Award, type 4 'oval' issue, no. 2122, very fine

£2,000-3,000

1124

*Order of Suvorov, Second Class, type 2, hand-engraved no. 577, in gold, silver and red enamel, an early screwback suspension issue, very fine to good very fine £6,000-8,000

1125

*Order of Suvorov, Third Class, type 3, hand-engraved no. 8963, in silver and red enamel, screwback suspension, very fine to good very fine, toned £3,000-4,000

Offered with a certificate of authenticity and appraisal by Historical Research L.L.C. (graded "9 out of a possible 10 for condition").

1126

*Order of Suvorov, Third Class, type 3, hand-engraved no. 11562, in silver and red enamel, screwback suspension, surface marks, very fine, apparently one of the last pieces awarded £2,000-3,000

1127

*Order of Bogdan Khmelnitsky, First Class, type 1, hand-engraved no. 106, in gold and silver with gold central medallion secured by two rivets (McDaniel variation 2), a few surface marks, very fine to good very fine £12,000-15,000

*Order of Bogdan Khmelnitsky, Second Class, type 1, variation 3, hand-engraved no. 507, in silver with gold central medallion secured by three rivets, considerable surface knocks and marks, especially on reverse, with rivets flattened and the screwpost refixed, fine to very fine

£4,000-6000

Offered with a certificate of authenticity and appraisal by Historical Research L.L.C. (graded "6 out of a possible 10 for condition"). McDaniel considered that the piece may have been converted to 'pinback' suspension before being re-converted to its original form, and that it has been artificially patinated.

*Order of Bogdan Khmelnitsky, Second Class, type 1, variation 3, hand-engraved no. 526, in silver with gold central medallion secured by three rivets, good very fine and toned£8,000-12,000

*Order of Alexander Nevsky, type 1, variation 3, engraved no. 12629, in silver, silver-gilt and red enamel; an original badge fitted with unofficial replacement rectangular suspension, flake of enamel missing from upper point of star, otherwise good very fine £2,000-3,000

Offered with a certificate of authenticity and appraisal by Historical Research L.L.C. (graded "5 out of a possible 10 for condition"). The lot is offered on the understanding that the suspension assembly is a later copy.

*Order of Alexander Nevsky, no. 33181 (McDaniel type 3), awarded summer 1945, better than very fine

£400-600

1132

*Order of the Patriotic War, First Class, type 1, variation 3, engraved no. 17618, in gold, silver-gilt and enamels, with rectangular suspension, reverse with some surface scratches and stamped with the Latin letter 'L', good very fine to extremely fine £2,000-3,000

1133

François Certain Canrobert was born in 1809 and was commissioned into the French Army in 1828. He was sent to Algeria in 1835 where he took part in the Mascara Expedition and the Capture of Tlemcen. Promoted to Captain in 1837, he was wounded during the Storming of Constantine and was appointed Chevalier of the Légion d'Honneur. In 1839 he organised a battalion of the Foreign Legion for the Carlist Wars.

From 1841 he was involved in various North African Campaigns, initially with the 3rd Regiment and latterly with the Zouaves. For his rôle at the battle of Zaatcha in 1849 he was promoted Brigadier General and became a Commander of the Légion d'Honneur. In 1850 he led the expedition against Narah, resulting in the destruction of the Arab stronghold. Recalled to Paris, he was named Aide-de-Camp to President Louis Napoleon Bonaparte and participated in the coup d' état of 2 December, 1851.

During the Crimean War he commanded a division at the battle of the Alma, where he was twice wounded. Following St. Arnaud's death (from cholera) shortly after the battle, he succeeded to chief command of the French army. At the battle of Inkermann he was slightly wounded and had his horse shot under him while leading a charge of Zouaves. Following disagreements with the British and the prolongation of the Siege of Sebastopol he resigned as Commander-in-Chief but nevertheless remained in the Crimea in charge of his former Division.

On returning home he became Marshal of France and received the Grand Cross of the Légion d'Honneur as well as an honorary G.C.B.. He commanded the III Army Corps in Lombardy in 1859, distinguishing himself at the battles of Magenta and Solferino. During the Franco-Prussian War he commanded the VI Army Corps and remained one of the few French Commanders to emerge from the War with his reputation intact.

Following the establishment of the Third Republic he was appointed to the Superior Council of War and served in the Senate. He died in Paris on 25 January 1895 and was accorded the honour of a State Funeral.

BRITISH CAMPAIGN MEDALS AND GROUPS

Starting at 12.30 pm

1246

*Alexander Davison's medal for the Nile, 1st August 1798, in copper-gilt, set in a gilt mount (formerly glazed) with swivelling bow suspension and rim engraved James Green his Majestys Ship Zealous, the medal now easily removable from its mount and with original lettered edge undamaged apart from a pinhole originally used to set it, good very fine
£400-500

ABLE SEAMAN JAMES GREEN is listed as a recipient of the Naval General Service Medal with two clasps. He served aboard Zealous at the Battle of the Nile and aboard Venerable at the Gut of Gibraltar action in 1801.

1247

*Alexander Davison's medal for the Nile, 1st August 1798, in bronzed copper, by C.H. Küchler, Peace standing upon the shore supporting an oval medallion portraying Nelson, rev., the Fleet sailing into Aboukir Bay to attack the French, ALMIGHTY GOD HAS BLESSED HIS MAJESTY'S ARMS on a scroll above, lettered edge impressed A TRIBUTE OF REGARD etc., 47mm (B.H.M. 447; Hardy 5; Milford Haven 482; B.B.M. 26; Pollard 15), several light abrasions in the 'sky' of the reverse, otherwise extremely fine and of good colour f400-500

Examples of the medal in bronzed-copper were presented to all ratings and marines.

1249

£400-500

It is often suggested that Nelson brought the King back to Naples aboard Foudroyant but this is incorrect; Nelson arrived off the city in late June whilst the King himself did not return until 10th July. Because of civil unrest ashore, he based himself aboard Nelson's flagship for about four weeks prior to reoccupying his Palace, and it was during this period afloat that Nelson was offered, and accepted, the Dukedom of Bronte from his guest.

1249

*Matthew Boulton's medal for Trafalgar, 21st October 1805, in bronze-gilt, by C.H. Küchler, uniformed bust of Nelson left, rev., the two British columns breaking the enemy line-of-battle at the commencement of the action, lettered edge impressed TO THE HEROES OF TRAFALGAR etc., 48mm (B.H.M. 584; Hardy 40; Milford Haven 493; B.B.M. 31), the rather dull gilding a little thin on the high points of the bust and some light scuffing both sides, otherwise about extremely fine and very rare£800-1,000

1250

*Matthew Boulton's medal for Trafalgar, 21st October 1805, in bronzed copper, by C.H. Küchler, uniformed bust of Nelson left, rev., the two British columns breaking the enemy line-of-battle at the commencement of the action, lettered edge impressed TO THE HEROES OF TRAFALGAR etc., 48mm (B.H.M. 584; Hardy 40; Milford Haven 493; B.B.M. 31), almost mint state, in original coppered-tin 'shells' as issued, extremely rare thus and offered with a contemporary paper wrapper inscribed 'Battle of Trafalgar' in a fine script

*The Four-Clasp Naval General Service Medal awarded to Lieutenant (later Vice-Admiral) Charles Richardson, C.B., who at the Battle of Camperdown personally apprehended Admiral De Winter before he could make his escape and escorted him to Admiral Duncan's flagship H.M.S. Venerable, the clasps comprising 1 June 1794, Camperdown, Egypt, Basque Roads 1809, officially impressed (C. Richardson, Lieut. R.N.), carriage slightly bent and sometime cleaned, good very fine, the Basque Roads clasp listed as an 'additional claim' and fitted with pin-head rivets; together with an old photogravure reproduction of the recipient's portrait dated 1810, in glazed frame £20,000-30,000

Roll confirms: Master's Mate, Royal George (1 June 1794); Lieutenant, Circe (Camperdown); Lieutenant, Kent (Egypt); and [per Marshall and O'Byrne] Captain, Caesar (Basque Roads).

VICE ADMIRAL SIR CHARLES RICHARDSON, K.C.B. joined the Navy as a Midshipman in November 1787, serving under Sir Richard Strachan aboard H.M.S. Vestal in the Straits of Banca and in Bombay. With Strachan he removed to the Phoenix, seeing active service in the War with Tippoo Sultan and being present at the action against the French La Résolu.

On returning to England in 1793 he joined firstly the Alexander and, on passing his examination, the 100-gun Royal George, Sir Alexander Hood's flagship at the Glorious First of June. Promoted Lieutenant after the battle he was appointed to the Circe, whose Captain and Officers received the thanks of the Admiralty for their judicious conduct in dealing with rebellious seamen during the Nore Mutiny.

Richardson was still First Lieutenant of the Circe at the Battle of Camperdown where, as the engagement was drawing to its close, he realised that Admiral de Winter's disabled flagship the Vryheid remained sufficiently close to the rest of the Dutch fleet for the Admiral to effect his escape. Volunteering to take an open boat to the Vryheid he succeeded in capturing de Winter and rowed him to the Venerable, where Duncan received the formal Dutch surrender [Daniel Orme's Duncan Receiving the Surrender of de Winter at the Battle of Camperdown, 11 October 1797, now in the National Maritime Museum, includes Richardson's portrait]. Duncan rewarded him with promotion to his own flagship, and Richardson served under him on both the Venerable and the Kent until Duncan's resignation.

Captain Richardson, circa 1810

Having served during the Egyptian landings and subsequent battle, Richardson joined the Penelope on the Mediterranean station before receiving command of the Alligator, a 28-gun frigate. He took an active part in the reduction of Demerara, Essequibo and Berbice in 1803, and in 1804 was mentioned in despatches for the Capture of Surinam. At the beginning of 1806 he was appointed to the 80-gun Caesar, under the flag once more of his patron Sir Richard Strachan, and ready to sail in pursuit of a squadron which had escaped from Brest; there followed a number of actions off the south-west coast of France, including the destruction of three French frigates under the batteries at Sables d'Olonne.

Richardson subsequently served in the Semiramis, Leander and Topaze. He took part in the Scheldt Expedition, and at Flushing he landed at the head of a naval brigade with six 24-pounder guns, using them to such great effect that he was again highly praised in despatches and in public. With Captain William Ferris of the Diana, Richardson in the Semiramis succeeded in driving the French 16-gun Le Pluvier ashore at Royan, and amongst a number of prizes the Semiramis took the privateer Grand Jean Bart. In the Topaze in 1821-22, Richardson became involved in a dispute with the Chinese at Canton following a native attack on his crew, which led to a suspension of trade until he was able to accomplish a diplomatic solution.

He was nominated C.B. on 4 June 1815, Rear-Admiral on 10 January 1837, K.C.B., 29 June 1841 and Vice-Admiral of the White, 17 December 1847. He died on 10 November, 1850.

*South Africa 1853 (Capt. H.M.H. Orpen. Native Levies), very fine and rare to Colonial Force Officers

HENRY MARTYN HERBERT ORPEN, Colesburg Hottentot Levy, was later awarded the C.M.G. (London Gazette: 21 May 1898).

The following is taken from Men of the Times: Old Colonists of the Cape Colony and Orange River Colony, Transvaal Publishing Company, Johannesburg, 1906:

'Henry Martyn Herbert Orpen C.M.G. distinguished himself greatly during the Kaffir war of 1851-53 having been no less than 104 times in action with the corps that he himself raised, and for some time defrayed the cost of keeping it in the field. For his meritorious services he was complimented by all his commanding officers, receiving the Kaffir medal, and being publicly thanked by his Excellency General Sir George Cathcart on parade. Afterwards he held various positions in the [Cape] Civil Service and in 1876 was promoted to Assistant Treasurer and Accountant General of the Colony, being interested in the complete reorganisation of the Treasury.'

Army Long Service and Good Conduct, Victoria, impressed (2557. Tmpt.-Mjr W. Smith. 6th Batn. Mility. Train.),

Sutlej and Punjab medals both with heavy contact marks and worn swivel-pins, about fine, Crimea good fine, with very clear officially-impressed naming, and Army LSGC good fine, with an unofficial silver brooch suspension fixed to original suspender (4) £10,000-15,000

The question "Who Sounded the Charge?" occupied popular opinion for many years following the events of 25 October 1854. William Smith's claim to have done so on behalf of the 11^{th} Hussars seems entirely credible but is not to be confused with the debate surrounding the 17^{th} Lancers 'Balaclava Bugle', probably used by William Brittain and the instrument sold by Sotheby & Co., London on 20^{th} April 1964. Smith also received the Cabul Medal 1842 and a Turkish Crimea Medal but the present whereabouts of these awards are unknown.

WILLIAM SMITH was born on 13 July 1822 and enlisted into 3rd Light Dragoons on 22 February 1836. In 1838 he went with the Regiment to the North West Frontier of India, taking part in the First Afghan War of 1839-42 and being present at the reoccupation of Kabul on 15 September 1842. After serving in both the Sutlej and the Punjab campaigns, he returned to England.

In June 1853 he transferred to the 11th Hussars and embarked for the Crimea. He is known to have 'definitely charged' with the Light Brigade as a Trumpeter, and was later to attain special celebrity as the man who had additionally 'sounded the Charge'. (In reality he was probably one of several men who blew the signal to 'charge', 'advance' or both, and the extent to which they could be heard in the heat of the moment must in any case remain a matter for conjecture). Canon Lummis notes that Smith also wrote a poem entitled 'Balaclava', and dated 'Balaclava Heights 1854', which was later reproduced in the XI Hussar Journal (January, 1912).

Smith fell sick and was sent to Scutari; he was able to rejoin the Regiment in July, 1855 and was promoted to Trumpet-Major on 1 September 1856. He was subsequently attached to the Military Train and received the Army LSGC. Following his discharge, he lived with his wife Mary at Freehold Terrace, Love Lane, Knutsford, becoming Trumpet-Major to the Earl of Chester's Cheshire Yeomanry from 1863 until his final military retirement in 1874. He then acted as Cryer at the Quarter Sessions held in Chester and Knutsford, and two years later he was appointed manager of Knutsford Gentleman's Club. He was well-known at local cultural events and appears to have achieved a considerable reputation as an entertainer. He attended the First Balaclava Banquet in 1875 for the 21st Anniversary, and was also a member of the Balaclava Commemoration Society.

Smith died in November 1879, apparently from the effects of depression, alcohol and laudanum, and having previously arranged to settle his debts. An inquest held at the White Bear Hotel in Knutsford described the cause of death as "apoplexy, probably accelerated by laudanum, taken while he was in an unsound state of mind". The lot includes copies of several newspaper cuttings relating to the inquest, and an obituary.

At the time of the Festival of Britain in 1951 a memorial plaque was placed upon his former home in Stanley Road, Knutsford, reading "Trumpet-Major William Smith 1822-1879, who sounded the charge at Balaclava, lived here. This road was formerly known as Love Lane." In 1991 the War Graves Commission provided a headstone for his previously unmarked grave in Knutsford, paid for by the 11th Hussars and from funds collected by well-wishers; a service of dedication took place on 26 May 1991.

The mouthpiece of Smith's bugle was on public display until the 1930's and his portrait, in 11th Hussars uniform and wearing all six of his medals, is preserved at Knutsford Public Library. It is reproduced in this catalogue by kind permission of Cheshire Archive and Local Studies (see illustration on inside front cover).

James Williams, the son of an Armourer Sergeant in the Grenadier Guards, was born in Birmingham in 1868. He enlisted in his father's regiment in April, 1886 and was promoted Lance Corporal, April 1888, Corporal, May 1889, Lance Sergeant, June 1889, Sergeant, December 1891 and Colour Sergeant, November 1894. In May 1896 he enlisted for a further 21 years and in July 1898 the Battalion embarked for the Sudan, participating in the Battle of Omdurman on 2 September.

In May 1901 he was transferred to the Rifle Brigade for service on the permanent staff of the 1st Tower Hamlets Volunteer Rifle Corps as a Sergeant Instructor. He was discharged at his own request in May 1904.

On the outbreak of the Great War he re-enlisted as Sergeant Major (Warrant Officer). In December 1914 he was appointed Lieutenant and Quartermaster to the 23^{rd} Service Battalion, Manchester Regiment and in February 1915 he was commissioned as a Captain and Adjutant to the 17^{th} County of London Volunteer Corps. J. W. Cater. Ceylon V. Coy Glouc: R.) and Victory Medal (Capt. J. W. Cater), good very fine and better (2) £300-400

JOHN WHITE CATER was educated at Harrow School before going to Ceylon as a tea planter. In January 1900 he joined the small Ceylon Mounted Infantry Contingent, which sailed for South Africa in February. During the war he was attached to the Gloucester Regiment.

In September 1914 he enlisted initially in the First Devon Yeomanry before obtaining a commission in the 9th Battalion, Middlesex Regiment (June 1915). He went to France in October 1916 and was promoted Captain the following January. He took part in the Battle of Arras and was wounded on April 9 1917. He was recommended for the Military Cross, which was gazetted on 18 July with the following citation: "The success of the attack was largely due to his initiative and skilful leading. He showed the utmost energy and coolness in organising his men under heavy fire after each advance. He set a fine example throughout."

On 3 May 1917 he was severely wounded near Arras while leading his men in a dawn attack. He was taken Prisoner-of-War and died in hospital in Cassel on 9 July. He is buried in the Niederzwehren Cemetery, Cassel and is commemorated on the Harrow School Memorial.

The following is taken from an entry in the R.H.S. Annual Report of 1820 which is believed to be related to the award of the medal:

Case of poisoning by Opium, from which the patient was restored by Galvanism. Communicated by Dr Hall of Nottingham. "Half a dram of the pulvis ipecacuhanæ compositus of the London Pharmacopœia, containing three grains of opium, three grains of ipecacuhan, and twenty-four grains of the sulphate of potasse, was given early in the morning to an infant about one year and a half old. The effects of the opium were soon apparent, and the child's mother walked a distance of four miles to relate the circumstance, and to obtain relief. From some circumstances, which it is unnecessary to relate, nothing was done in this urgent case until eight o'clock in the evening. At that time Dr H. went over to visit the little patient, in company with a young surgeon, taking with him different medicines and a galvanic trough. On his arrival he found the infant apparently in a dying state, lying stretched out, affected with deep stupor, with an interrupted and failing respiration, an imperceptible pulse, and clammy coldness of the extremities and of the surface. It was in vain to attempt to make the infant swallow. Whilst warmth, frictions and other subsidiary measures were adopted, Dr Hall had recourse to the galvanic apparatus, making the galvanic energy traverse the thorax from the region of the heart to the opposite side, and to the pit of the stomach. He persevered for a very considerable time, thirty or forty minutes, without obtaining any earnest of success; he still, however, continued his efforts, and after a time, which appeared long, he began to observe some improvement in the respiration and in the pulse; by still further perseverance the fading embers of life were rekindled, and he eventually left the little patient in a hopeful state of amendment. This amendment continued progressive, and the infant ultimately recovered and lived."

BELGIUM, Order of Leopold II, Officer's breast badge, in silver-gilt (enamelled centre lacking);

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Medal of Freedom with Bronze Palm;

BELGIUM, Medal of Resistance;

BELGIUM, War Commemorative; and

NETHERLANDS, Decoration for Peace and Order, the first six mounted for wearing, the other three mounted on a separate bar, very fine or better (9) £3,500-4,000

Order of Orange Nassau, London Gazette: 23 May 1947. Medal of Freedom with Bronze Palm, London Gazette: 18 July 1947. Order of Leopold II, London Gazette: 17 September 1948.

Translation of the Citation for the Order of Orange Nassau:

"As head of the Dutch section of the Special Operations Executive from March 1944 to May 1945, Lt-Colonel Dobson displayed great devotion to duty and meritorious service in the field connected with the Armed Resistance Forces struggle and in the liberation of the Netherlands. Lt-Colonel Dobson's outstanding ability when working as Operations Organiser greatly assisted the Allied Forces advancement. Through his untiring efforts, determination and leadership he enabled many missions to be successfully achieved."

Citation for Medal of Freedom with Bronze Palm:

"Lieutenant Colonel Richard Iver Dobson, British Army, for exceptionally meritorious achievement which aided the United States in the prosecution of the war against the enemy in Continental Europe from 26 February 1944 to 6 May 1945. Lieutenant Colonel Dobson displayed outstanding executive ability, initiative, and complete devotion to duty while assigned to a special mission which played an important part in the support of the Allied Expeditionary Force operations in Europe and in the liberation of the Netherlands. Lieutenant Colonel Dobson's wholehearted spirit of cooperation, his unfailing tact, and his deep fund of military knowledge reflect high credit upon him and the Allied Armed Forces."

Citation for the Order of Leopold II:

"In recognition of services rendered to Belgium."

The following letter from Paul Bihin, Administrateur de la Sûreté de l'Etat, 2 August 1946, explains the reasons for the award:

"Lt. Colonel Richard Dobson, attached to the British Special Services, has cooperated with the Belgian section of this organisation since February 12 1941 as Interpreter and conducting officer, he was later Briefing Officer and Operating Officer. He is one of the British officers with the longest records of service in the Belgian section. His thorough knowledge of Belgium and its two national languages enabled him to render invaluable services in the "underground" work in occupied territory."

RICHARD IVER DOBSON was born in Antwerp 12 December 1906; his father was a marine engineer. At the beginning of the Second World War he was working with MI6. In February 1941 he was employed with T section as an interpreter. On 19 April he was commissioned Second Lieutenant on the General List without Army pay and allowances. He continued to work for T section in various roles.

The SOE's Dutch organisation was penetrated by German counter-espionage as early as 1942 and continued under German control. "Clandestine" radio transmissions from the Netherlands fed the British false information, leading to the capture and death of most of the British agents dropped into the Netherlands. In the early spring of 1944 London made a clean sweep of the Netherlands operation. Major Seymour Bingham, chief of the SOE Dutch Section was relieved of his post and sent to the Far East. He was succeeded by Dobson, who soon reorganised the Section and established more cordial relations with MVT. Major Griskes head of German counter espionage in the Netherlands decided to call off Englandspiel and sent a final signal to London:

"To Messrs Blunt, Bingham and Successors Ltd. You are trying to make business in the Netherlands without our assistance; we think this rather unfair in view of our long and successful cooperation as your sole agent, but never mind whenever you will come to pay a visit to the continent you may be assured that you will be received with same care and result as all those you sent us before, so long."

The reorganisation of the Dutch Section was successful and Dobson remained in charge to the end of the war, widely respected by those who worked with him in both Belgium and the Netherlands.

The lot is offered with the following original documentation: document of appointment, warrant, statutes, in both Dutch and English; translation of citation for the Order of Orange Nassau; copy of General Orders Headquarters US Forces, European Theater 29 May 1946 announcing the award of the Medal of Freedom with forwarding letter and citation; warrant for the Order of Leopold II, letter of approval from the War Office and congratulatory letter from General Ganshof van der Meersch; signed letter from Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands recommending him to all Dutch organisations 11 May 1945; copy of message from Queen Wilhelmina with a forwarding letter from Prince Bernhard's secretary; Order of the Day for the Secret Army 18 January 1945; Dobson's pass from the Ministry of Belgian National Defence, signed by General Marissal, 5 February 1944; menu for the Milltown Christmas dinner 1943; letter from the War Office on the relinquishing of his commission 19 April 1946; birth certificate; Belgian Association of Parachutist Agents membership card for 1957; letter from the Antwerp Branch of the British Legion making him an Honorary Vice President by virtue of his past presidency of the branch. Also included are various photocopied research papers and recent correspondence.

A Fine French Resistance Group of Four awarded to Madame Marguerite di Giacomo, Free French Corps, who sheltered and delivered over 30 Allied Airmen to safety, comprising:

FRANCE, Croix de Guerre 1939 avec Étoile de Bronze;

Cross of the Combatant Volunteer of the Resistance;

GREAT BRITAIN, King's Medal for Courage in the Cause of Freedom;

UNITED STATES, Medal of Freedom with Bronze Palm, all unnamed as issued, last two in cases of issue, good very fine (4) £4,000-5,000

Croix de Guerre 1939 avec Étoile de Bronze, 17 May 1945: Confirmed 13 November 1945. The following is a translation of the original citation:

"For sheltering and escorting more than 30 crashed allied airmen in France during the course of the German occupation and for crossing the enemy lines in August 1944 with six English, Australian and American airmen, bringing them back to the allied lines safe and well."

Cross of the Combatant Volunteer of the Resistance (9477), presented 13 July 1955: Offered with photocopy of associated identity card.

King's Medal for Courage in the Cause of Freedom (presented at the British Embassy, Paris, 16 November 1946):

"Madame di Giacomo sheltered at least 36 Allied evaders; she fed them, and cared for them in every possible way until she was able to arrange for their evacuation. She also provided false papers and identity cards. Although she has a young daughter Madame di Giacomo's devotion to the Allied Cause was such that she not only housed Allied evaders, but also did convoy work, and in August 1944 crossed the German lines with six evaders whom she guided to safety.

Madame di Giacomo was, at all times, an inspiration to those with whom she came in touch; she showed a complete disregard for her own safety and a fine patriotic spirit."

Medal of Freedom with Bronze Palm, presented 8 February 1947:

"Marguerite Di Giacomo, French Civilian, for exceptionally meritorious achievement which aided the United States in the prosecution of the war against the enemy in Continental Europe, from December 1943 to August 1944. She distinguished herself by her great courage, ingenuity, and determination in the performance of hazardous missions. Completely disregarding her personal safety she assisted directly in the evasion of thirty-eight Allied airmen, and, through her unselfish devotion to the Allied cause contributed materially to the success of the war effort, thereby meriting the praise and recognition of the United States of America."

The lot is offered with the following original documentation:

Citation of the Order de la Brigade 7023, 17 May 1945 and Citation of the Order de la Brigade 10912, 13 November 1945, both announcing the award of the Croix de Guerre with Etoile de Bronze and forwarding letter; Citation of General Eisenhower; Certificate of gratitude for help given to Commonwealth troops in helping them escape or evade capture by the enemy, signed by Air Chief Marshal Tedder; invitation for presentation by the ambassadors of Great Britain and the United States of the aforementioned diplomas 6 September 1946; programme for the Ceremony of Recognition of Parisians who actively participated in the evasion of allied soldiers and airmen during the German occupation, 6 September 1946; Diploma of General de Gaulle, 19 November 1948; Diploma of L'Union Nationale des Évadés, 30 April 1949; original citations and English translations for the King's Medal for Courage in the Cause of Freedom and Medal of Freedom with Bronze Palm and Investiture letter from the British Embassy, Paris; Ministry of National Defence attestation stating that she served with the Shelburn Resistance Group from 1 March until 30 September 1944 in a rank corresponding to Sub Lieutenant, dated February 1947; a document from the Ministry of National Defence and War recognising the quality of work with Shelburn; a handwritten letter from one of her colleagues, 26 June 1946; orange silk parachute signed by various allied airmen she had assisted; lists of the various allied airmen she assisted and various related correspondence; hand written letter addressed to President de Gaulle, 20 January 1965 proposing herself for the award of a Chevalier of the Légion d'Honneur; a hand written note from President de Gaulle, with envelope postmarked 14 January, thanking her for her kind wishes and offering the same in return; membership card of the Fédération Nationale des Combatants Prisonniers de Guerre, Association de la Seine 1963; her husband Guerino di Giacomo's identity bracelet for the 2nd Bureau of the Seine.

Military Cross: London Gazette: 26 September 1916:

"For conspicuous gallantry in action. When his company officers became casualties he took command and led the company with great skill and courage. Owing to his fine personal example the company was able to consolidate and hold its position"

Medal of St. George First Class: London Gazette: 15 February 1917 (awarded by Field Marshal the Emperor of Russia, 12 September 1916).

Mention in Despatches: London Gazette: 29 July 1902 (Lord Kitchener's despatches).

JOHN CLAY was born in 1878 at Enfield, Middlesex. He enlisted in the Grenadier Guards in May 1896. During the Boer War he served in the Machine Gun Section of the 2^{nd} Battalion. He was discharged on 11 May 1912 having served sixteen years with the regiment.

He re-enlisted with the Leicestershire Regiment on 17 August 1914 and served with the 6^{th} Battalion. He was commissioned into the 7^{th} Battalion on 26 January 1918.

The lot is offered with the following original documentation: letter from the Adjutant of the Grenadier Guards, 31 December 1908, informing him of the London Gazette date of his Mention in Despatches of 1902; discharge certificate from the Grenadier Guards 11 May 1912; letter informing him of his Investiture of the Military Cross by the King on 17 December 1917; discharge from the ranks on account of his being commissioned, 11 February 1918; Commission as Quartermaster, 22 January 1922; a portrait photograph as Quartermaster; and a quantity of photocopied research, including a newspaper cutting of an interview given by John Clay to the Leicester Mercury on 16 June 1956 relating his service during the Boer War.

A Second Battle of the Marne Military Cross Group awarded to Captain Campbell Ross Bridge, D Battery, 95th Brigade, Royal Field Artillery, Three, comprising:

Military Cross, unnamed as issued;

British War and Victory Medals (Capt. C. R. Bridge), good very fine; together with related miniatures, riband bar and a gilt Royal Artillery stickpin (lot) £1,000-1,200

Military Cross: London Gazette: 16 September 1918:

"For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in temporary command of a battery. He skilfully carried out all tasks allotted him, inflicting heavy casualties on the enemy. During successive retirements he fought his battery with great courage, frequently under heavy observed hostile fire. The example set by him contributed materially to the successful work done by the battery."

CAMPBELL ROSS BRIDGE, known as 'Ross', was born in Peterborough in April 1888. Educated at Bedford School, he was a cadet in the 3rd Bedfordshire Royal Engineers Volunteers. In 1906 he was employed by Greenwood & Co., London stockbrokers and joined the Honourable Artillery Company in 1908. He left for Ceylon in 1912 where he joined the Ceylon Planters Rifle Corps, subsequently transferring to the Ceylon Mounted Rifles.

Following the outbreak of hostilities in 1914 he returned to England to enlist in the Royal Horse Artillery; after receiving his commission he was posted to the 95th Brigade R.H. and R.F.A. His Military Cross was awarded for the Second Battle of the Marne at Épernay, the M.C. ribbon being pinned to his tunic by General Newcombe in the presence of his battery [the Cross itself was later presented personally by the Prince of Wales during his visit to Colombo]. According to family tradition Ross was present at the last Cavalry Charge of the Great War and he was later wounded while attacking the Hindenburg Line. After treatment at Rouen Hospital he convalesced at the Overseas Rothschild Home, Deauville.

In 1919 he returned to Ceylon and rejoined the Mounted Rifles. During World War II he was appointed a Justice of the Peace, Police Coroner, and Inspector of local Police, Police stations and government hospitals. He also became Area Commandant of some 250 square miles of the island, with responsibility, in the event of Japanese attack, for arranging the destruction of bridges, petrol stations and industrial plant, and for organising the evacuation of European residents. He retired in 1946, returning to Europe the following year, and died at Eastbourne in October, 1981.

The lot is offered with a copy photograph of Bridge with the other officers of his battery (detail enlargement illustrated), a copy of his own manuscript account of action in the Amiens area between 21 and 29 March 1918, and biographical details.

Royal Naval Reserve Decoration: London Gazette: 6 May 1938.

The London Gazette entry for the M.B.E. has not been traced, but the contemporary newspaper cutting indicates that it was awarded for services with the fishing fleet.

Great War Military Medal Group, awarded to Gunner Frank Carter, Royal Field Artillery, Four, comprising: Military Medal, British War and Victory Medals (138464 Gnr: F. Carter. R.A.), Special Constabulary Long Service, George VI type 1 (Frank Carter), first three very fine, last extremely fine (4)

Military Medal: London Gazette: 6 August 1918 (Derby).

Offered with County Borough of Brighton Police forwarding letter for the Special Constabulary Long Service medal dated 5 August 1949, and offering condolences on Frank Carter's recent death.

1320

Great War Military Medal Group, awarded to Private J. Longhurst, Wiltshire Regiment, attached Machine Gun Corps, Four: Military Medal (18070 Pte. J. Longhurst. 25 M.G.C.), 1914-15 Star, British War and Victory Medals (10887 Pte. Wilts. R.), generally very fine (4)

£280-320

Military Medal: London Gazette: 17 June 1919 (Guildford).

1330

Great War Military Medal (572484 Pte. J. N. Myers. 1/17 Lond: R.), a few marks, about extremely fine

£400-600

London Gazette: 12 December 1917 (Bow).

572484 PRIVATE JOSEPH M. MYERS, M.M. is listed by the Commonwealth Graves Commission as killed in action at the Battle of Cambrai on 3 December 1917. He is commemorated on the Cambrai Memorial, Louveral. A J. M. Myers is also listed in the British Jewry Book of Honour, published in 1922, as the recipient of a Military Medal; he is not, however, listed in the same work's Roll of Honour and neither is he mentioned in Soldiers that Died (published in 1921).

As the Cambrai Memorial commemorates soldiers with no known grave it is possible that he was, at the time of the two publications, listed as 'missing' and that his death was not confirmed until a later date. The J.M. Myers listed in the British Jewry Book of Honour is thought likely to be the same man as commemorated on the Cambrai Memorial, and the 'N' on the medal appears to be in error for 'M'.

Great War Military Medal (82344 Spr: H. Gibson. R. E.), rank corrected, very fine

£180-220

London Gazette: 20 August 1919 (350th E. & M. Coy; Ebbw Vale).

1332

Second World War Submariner's Distinguished Service Cross and Bar, awarded to Lieutenant Charles Walderne St Clair Lambert, R.N. who was killed in action in 1943; the Distinguished Service Cross with reverse hallmarked 1940 and dated 1942, with bar for second award on ribbon dated 1942, extremely fine, in case of issue; together with named (posthumous) forwarding slip for campaign medals

£800-1,200

Distinguished Service Cross: London Gazette: 7 April 1942:

"For courage, skill and coolness in successful Submarine patrols"

Bar to Distinguished Service Cross: London Gazette: 21 July 1942:

"For gallantry and resolution in successful patrols in H.M. Submarines P.31, Unbeaten and Torbay"

CHARLES WALDERNE ST CLAIR LAMBERT received both awards of the Distinguished Service Cross whilst serving aboard H.M. Submarine Unbeaten. His Distinguished Service Cross was awarded for in twelve Mediterranean war patrols from April 1941 with H.M. Submarines Upholder, Upright and Ursula and for torpedoing three large escorted transports off Tripoli on 18 September 1941.

The bar was awarded for sinking U374 off Cape Spartivento on 12 January 1942, and for the probable sinking of an enemy tanker.

He later served on board P615 during the submarine trapping operation "Clockwork Mouse". On 18 April 1943 she was torpedoed off the coast of Liberia by U123, with the loss of all hands. With the rest of the crew, Lambert is commemorated on the Portsmouth Naval Memorial.

1333

Distinguished Service Cross: London Gazette: 11th September 1945:

"For air attacks on targets in Japan."

The lot is offered with two Pilot's Flying Logbooks with entries from 24 September 1942 to 6 August 1945; Pilot's notes (3, 2 being annotated by the recipient); Certificate of Service; two copies of the London Gazette announcing the D.S.C.; various official letters mainly relating to his application to join the Fleet Air Arm and his demobilisation; Flying Clothing Card; two photograph albums and several loose photographs (including wartime and later); Fleet Air Arm sweetheart's brooch; various cloth uniform and cap insignia; various pages from the Tatler related to the Fleet Air Arm; and two unrelated gilt and jade items of jewellery bearing a New Zealand cypher.

Part of a family group; see also lot 1296.

Second World War Distinguished Flying Cross awarded to Flight Lieutenant Sydney Nicholas Milnes, R.A.F.V.R., unnamed as issued, reverse dated 1943, in (slightly damaged) Royal Mint case of issue, extremely fine£1,000-1,200

London Gazette: 15 January 1943 (joint citation with Flight Sergeant A.M. McDonald, who was awarded the D.F.M. for the same action):

"One night in December, 1942, Flight Lieutenant Milnes and Flight Sergeant McDonald were captain and navigator respectively of a heavy bomber engaged in an attack on Turin. South of the Alps heavy anti-aircraft fire disabled one of the starboard engines. Height was speedily lost from 18,000 to 13,000 feet before the barrage was evaded and the bombs released. Severe icing conditions then forced the aircraft down to 5,000 feet and when breaking cloud, over Northern France, the bomber was menaced by the approach of 5 enemy aircraft. Although the fighters did not attack, intense gunfire from the ground defences disabled both port engines and the bomber's speed fell almost to stalling point and altitude was lost down to 2,000 feet. The question of abandoning aircraft was considered. Although Flight Sergeant McDonald was in the best position to effect an escape, he opposed the proposal and Flight Lieutenant Milnes decided to struggle on. Soon the port inner engine again functioned but the aircraft was still flying almost at stalling speed. Eventually the north coast of France was gained and the crippled aircraft was again subjected to intense anti-aircraft fire. Further height was sacrificed in evading the gun-fire and the crew flew on and eventually reached safety. Flight Lieutenant Milnes displayed dogged determination and superb airmanship throughout this hazardous flight. He was ably assisted by Flight Sergeant McDonald whose courage and technical skill contributed much to the result achieved."

The lot is offered with the recipient's original Navigator's Logbook (with considerable damage), a Royal Air Force Officer's Medical Record Card, a postagram signed by Air Marshal Arthur Harris congratulating him on his award of the D.F.C., and several contemporary newspaper cuttings.

*Second World War Posthumous Distinguished Flying Cross awarded to Flight Lieutenant Douglas Charles Moon, R.A.F., unnamed as issued, reverse dated 1943, in (slightly damaged) Royal Mint case of issue, extremely fine £700-900

London Gazette: 13 August 1943.

DOUGLAS CHARLES MOON was killed on 26 July 1943. He is buried in St. Catherine's Churchyard, Barmby-on-the-Moor, Yorkshire.

The lot is offered with a Buckingham Palace condolence slip forwarded to his widow and eight photographs, including four of his funeral.

Distinguished Flying Medal: London Gazette: 17 January 1941 (general citation).

*Second World War Distinguished Flying Medal Group awarded to Sergeant Peter Raymond Baines, R.A.F., Five, comprising: Distinguished Flying Medal, George VI type 1 (1281912 Sgt. P. R. Baines. R.A.F);

1939-45 and Air Crew Europe Stars, Defence and War Medals, these unnamed as issued, mounted for wearing, good very fine (5) £1,200-1,500

Distinguished Flying Medal: London Gazette: 11 June 1943 (General Citation).

*North Africa Immediate Award Distinguished Conduct Medal Group awarded to Trooper Leonard Acaster, 4th Royal Tank Regiment, Four, comprising:

Distinguished Conduct Medal, George VI type 1 (7888516 Tpr. L. Acaster. R. Tank R.);

1939-45 and Africa Stars, War Medal, these unnamed as issued, good very fine, with paper envelope for the Distinguished Conduct Medal, and forwarding box and slip for campaign stars and medal; together with a British War and Victory Medal pair (57760 A. Cpl. T. Acaster R.A.F.) and also a bronze Great War tribute medal, good very fine or better (7)

Distinguished Conduct Medal: London Gazette: 24 February 1942:

"On the night of 30th Nov 1941, Tpr Acaster was driver of an "I" Tank which went into action when the sqn counter-attacked El Duda. A shell penetrated his tank killing the gunner and wounding Tpr Acaster in the face. The tank halted and being close to the enemy was quickly invested by them in the darkness. Tpr Acaster with great presence of mind feigned death, and the remainder of the crew were taken prisoner. As soon as the enemy moved off Tpr Acaster started up his tank again and drove it back in the direction of our lines where he met other soldiers who helped him out and led him to a R.A.P. Tpr Acaster was badly wounded in the face and his eyes were filled with blood rendering him half blind, while the pain was intense. His courage and presence of mind was most conspicuous and his devotion to duty in thus saving his tank from capture under the most trying conditions sets an example which has rarely been equalled in the service."

Trooper Acaster died on active service 5 December 1941 and is commemorated on the El Alamein Memorial.

*A Second World War Battle of Leros Military Medal Group awarded to Drummer Arthur Leslie Brown, Second Battalion Royal West Kent Regiment, who was subsequently a Prisoner-of-War, Seven:

Military Medal, George VI, (6342057 Dmr. A.L. Brown. R. W. Kent. R.);

General Service Medal 1918-62, 1 clasp, Palestine (6342057. Pte. R. Brown. R. W. Kent. R.);

1939-45, Africa, Italy Stars, Defence and War Medals, all unnamed as issued, with forwarding box for Second World War medals, extremely fine; together with a Regimental crest and a copy of Lieutenant-Colonel H. D. Chaplin, The Queen's Own Royal West Kent Regiment 1920-1950, London, 1954 (lot) £1,200-1,500

Military Medal: London Gazette: 11 October 1945 (general citation). Brown was imprisoned in Stalag 4G, Oschatz, between Leipzig and Dresden.

The following is taken from Lieutenant-Colonel H. D, Chaplin, The Queen's Own Royal West Kent Regiment 1920-50, London 1954, Chapter 5, The Fight for Leros:

"Meanwhile the German snipers in the houses lining the road were still active, and the Battalion Reconnaissance Group, which was following up the attack, was held up by their fire. Lieutenant James and Drummer Brown of the Intelligence Section ran forward under the fire and found a secure position from which the 'R' Group could watch the progress of the attack. They entered several of the houses and cleared them. By this time the composite company of the Royal Irish Fusiliers had also begun to clear the houses, and the German snipers were prevented from interfering further with troops in front."

1341

Miniatures: A Miniature D.F.C. Group as worn by Pilot Officer Maurice Anthony Gerard, R.A.F.V.R., Five: Distinguished Flying Cross, George VI, 1939-45, France and Germany Stars, Defence and War Medals, mounted for wearing, extremely fine (5) £300-400

Distinguished Flying Cross: London Gazette: 17 April 1945 (General Citation).

"On several occasions his aircraft has sustained severe damage in combat with enemy fighters and from anti-aircraft fire. During an attack on Hamburg in August 1944, one engine of his aircraft failed while on the outward flight. Despite this the attack was successfully completed. On the return flight, while over the sea, the aircraft was attacked by two Focke Wulf (sic) 190's, one of which opened fire. The cool manner in which Pilot Officer Gerard gave his captain evasive instructions was largely instrumental in saving the aircraft from damage. During other encounters with enemy aircraft this officer has displayed great courage and skill in warding off attacks. He has always shown the greatest devotion to duty."

Offered with original log book, with entries from 2 December 1943 to 17 December 1944; Pilot Officer's warrant 8 September 1944 and Flight Lieutenant's warrant 1 April 1953; a pencil drawing of the recipient in uniform, by Pat Rooney 1956; two albums with photographs, press cuttings, including a letter from Merlyn Rees on his retirement in 1968 and various souvenirs including world banknotes.

*The D.F.C., A.F.C. and Order of Lenin Group awarded to Wing Commander H.N.G. Ramsbottom-Isherwood, R.A.F. (and R.A.A.F.), who commanded 151 Wing in Russia in 1941, Eight, comprising:

Distinguished Flying Cross, reverse dated 1942, unnamed as issued;

Air Force Cross, reverse dated 1940, unnamed as issued;

1939-45 Star, Air Crew Europe Star [entitled to France and Germany clasp, now missing], Burma Star, Defence Medal and War Medal, all unnamed as issued; and

Russia, Order of Lenin, engraved no. 7384, type 5, variation 1, with 5-sided suspension, in gold, platinum and enamels, the medals good very fine to extremely fine, Order of Lenin virtually mint state; together with original named Soviet Order Book with photograph citing the award of the Order of Lenin no. 7381, cover water-stained, original named Murmansk Aerodrome Pass, also with photograph, a copy of Griffith's R.A.F. in Russia (see below), and several photocopies of R.A.F. and family photographs and of related newspaper cuttings (lot)
£20.000-30.000

Air Force Cross: London Gazette: 11 July 1940 (General Citation).

Order of Lenin: London Gazette: 31 March 1942:

"His Majesty has granted unrestricted permission for the wearing of the undermentioned decorations conferred on the officers and airman indicated in recognition of valuable services rendered in connection with the war: — CONFERRED BY THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNION OF SOVIET SOCIALIST REPUBLICS".

Famously there were only four awards of the Order of Lenin to British (or British Empire) recipients during the Great Patriotic War / Second World War. All were for Squadron Service in Russia with 151 Wing and were announced on 27 November 1941 (having been upgraded from Orders of the Red Banner, which had been proposed a week earlier). The recipients were:

- (i) Wing Commander Henry Neville Gynes Ramsbottom-Isherwood, D.F.C., A.F.C.;
- (ii) Squadron Leader Anthony Garforth Miller, D.F.C., Auxiliary Air Force;
- (iii) Acting Squadron Leader Anthony Hartwell Rook, D.F.C., Auxiliary Air Force;
- (iv) Flight Sergeant (later Pilot Officer) Charlton Haw, D.F.M., Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve.

The original awards, as presented by the Soviet ambassador Ivan Mayski at a London reception in March 1942, were 'screwback' type badges which the men wore alongside their British medal ribbons (as can be seen in Colin Colahan's 1942 portrait of Ramsbottom-Isherwood in the Australian War Memorial Collection, and also in a photograph of Miller and Haw included in John Clarke's Gallantry Medals & Decorations of the World, 2001, p. 192). After the introduction of the 'suspended' type Lenin badges in 1943, Ramsbottom-Isherwood's and Haw's pieces were exchanged for the new type (and so, very probably, were the other two as well), with specially-engraved serial numbers to match the originals. During the exchange process it appears that some muddling of the actual badges occurred, with the result that Ramsbottom-Isherwood's Order Book no. 7381 is now accompanied by badge no. 7384. In his Soviet Roll of Awards to British Recipients 1941-1945 John Clarke states that Miller's badge was no. 7381 and Haw's no. 7284, but the opportunity can now be taken to correct this record in that the latter badge has recently been checked and found to be numbered 7382 (it is also, by way of confirmation, a suspended type piece, and it is suggested that Haw's Order Book might previously have been misread as no. 7284 instead of 7384).

HENRY NEVILLE GYNES RAMSBOTTOM-ISHERWOOD, a New Zealander, was born in 1905 in Petone, Wellington. [The hyphen in his name was not used consistently, and indeed in the R.A.F. he was usually known as 'Isherwood' or, simply, as 'Ish']. Between 1924 and 1930 he served as a Second Lieutenant in the New Zealand Rifles before leaving for England to join the R.A.F. After initial training he spent the early 1930's in India, returning to the U.K. in 1935 to join 54 Squadron and, later, 35 Squadron. On becoming commissioned as a Flight Lieutenant in 1936, he was on the staff of the Aeroplane and Armament Experimental Establishment (A. & A.E.E.), testing aircraft which included Spitfires, Hurricanes and Bristol Beaufighters as well as the early Hawker Typhoon.

In 1941, when Sector Commander of 9 Group, Fighter Command, he was promoted Wing Commander in charge of the newly-formed 151 Wing, with orders to take Hurricanes to Vaenga, North Russia. The operation, to defend Murmansk and to introduce Soviet aircrew and pilots to the assembly, maintenance and flying of the Hurricane, proved a great success and a model of effective liaison with the Russians. Under remote and difficult conditions and in extreme cold, the Wing achieved its primary objectives and more, including fifteen kills, and a number of probable kills, to its credit. A copy of Flight-Lieutenant Hubert Griffith's contemporary account of the expedition entitled R.A.F. in Russia, inscribed by the author 'To my dreaded C.O., "the hammer of the Wing", from his inefficient Adj.', is included with the lot and includes numerous references to Isherwood (as well as a photograph of him with a baby reindeer presented by his Soviet counterpart Major-General Kuznetsov). For an accessible modern illustrated summary, see Mark Sheppard's RAF Hurricanes in Russia (published online).

After returning to England Isherwood was briefly involved in a plan to mount a second and even more ambitious expedition to Russia but this was abandoned, probably due to the high risks involved in convoy work. Between 1942-44 he acted as A.O.C. at R.A.F. Church Stanton, Valley and Woodvale before being posted abroad (to India, 342 Wing in Burma, and to South East Asia where he remained until 1947).

Wing Commander Isherwood, whilst C.O. of R.A.F. West Malling, was killed on 24 April 1950 when his Gloster Meteor IV crashed in bad weather near Tonbridge, Kent. Substantial wreckage from the aircraft was recovered in 2003 during the construction of a guarry.

Conditions of Business for Buyers

1. Introduction

- (a) The contractual relationship of Morton & Eden Ltd. and Sellers with prospective Buyers is governed by:-
- (i) these Conditions of Business for Buyers;
- (ii) the Conditions of Business for Sellers displayed in the saleroom and available from Morton & Eden Ltd.;
- (iii) Morton & Eden Ltd.'s Authenticity Guarantee:
- (iv) any additional notices and terms printed in the sale catalogue, in each case as amended by any saleroom notice or auctioneer's announcement
- (b) As auctioneer, Morton & Eden Ltd. acts as agent for the Seller. Occasionally, Morton & Eden Ltd. may own or have a financial interest in a lot.

2. Definitions

- "Bidder" is any person making, attempting or considering making a bid, including Buyers:
- "Buyer" is the person who makes the highest bid or offer accepted by the auctioneer, including a Buyer's principal when bidding as agent:
- "Seller" is the person offering a lot for sale, including their agent, or executors;
- "M&E" means Morton & Eden Ltd., auctioneers, 45 Maddox Street, London W1S 2PE, company number 4198353.
- "Buyer's Expenses" are any costs or expenses due to Morton & Eden Ltd. from the Buyer;
- "Buyer's Premium" is the commission payable by the Buyer on the Hammer Price at the rates set out in the Guide for Prospective Buyers;
- "Hammer Price" is the highest bid for the Property accepted by the auctioneer at the auction or the post auction sale price;
- "Purchase Price" is the Hammer Price plus applicable Buyer's Premium and Buyer's Expenses:
- "Reserve Price" (where applicable) is the minimum Hammer Price at which the Seller has agreed to sell a lot.

The Buyer's Premium, Buyer's Expenses and Hammer Price are subject to VAT, where applicable.

3. Examination of Lots

- (a) M&E's knowledge of lots is partly dependent on information provided by the Seller and M&E is unable to exercise exhaustive due diligence on each lot. Each lot is available for examination before sale. Bidders are responsible for carrying out examinations and research before sale to satisfy themselves over the condition of lots and accuracy of descriptions.
- (b) All oral and/or written information provided to Bidders relating to lots, including descriptions in the catalogue, condition reports or elsewhere are statements of M&E's opinion and not representations of fact. Estimates may not be relied on as a prediction of the selling price or value of the lot and may be revised from time to time at M&E's absolute discretion.

4. Exclusions and limitations of liability to Buyers

- (a) M&E shall refund the Purchase Price to the Buyer in circumstances where it deems that the lot is a Counterfeit, subject to the terms of M&E's Authenticity Guarantee.
- (b) Subject to Condition 4(a), neither M&E nor the Seller:-
- (i) is liable for any errors or omissions in any oral or written information provided to Bidders by M&E, whether negligent or otherwise;
- (ii) gives any guarantee or warranty to Bidders and any implied warranties and conditions are excluded (save in so far as such obligations cannot be excluded by English law), other than the express warranties given by the Seller to the Buyer (for which the Seller is solely responsible) under the Conditions of Business for Sellers:
- (iii) accepts responsibility to Bidders for acts or omissions (whether negligent or otherwise) by M&E in connection with the conduct of auctions or for any matter relating to the sale of any lot.
- (c) Without prejudice to Condition 4(b), any claim against M&E and/ or the Seller by a Bidder is limited to the Purchase Price for the relevant lot. Neither M&E nor the Seller shall be liable for any indirect or consequential losses
- (d) Nothing in Condition 4 shall exclude or limit the liability of M&E or the Seller for death or personal injury caused by the negligent acts or omissions of M&E or the Seller.

5. Bidding at Auction

- (a) M&E has absolute discretion to refuse admission to the auction. Before sale, Bidders must complete a Registration Form and supply such information and references as M&E requires. Bidders are personally liable for their bid and are jointly and severally liable with their principal, if bidding as agent (in which case M&E's prior and express consent must be obtained).
- (b) M&E advises Bidders to attend the auction, but M&E will endeavour to execute absentee written bids provided that they are, in M&E's opinion, received in sufficient time and in legible form.
- (c) When available, written and telephone bidding is offered as a free service at the Bidder's risk and subject to M&E's other commitments; M&E is therefore not liable for failure to execute such bids. Telephone bidding may be recorded.

6. Import, Export and Copyright Restrictions

M&E and the Seller make no representations or warranties as to whether any lot is subject to import, export or copyright restrictions. It is the Buyer's sole responsibility to obtain any copyright clearance or any necessary import, export or other licence required by law, including licenses required under the Convention on the International Trade in Endangered Species (CITES).

7. Conduct of the Auction

- (a) The auctioneer has discretion to refuse bids, withdraw or re-offer lots for sale (including after the fall of the hammer) if (s)he believes that there may be an error or dispute, and may also take such other action as (s)he reasonably deems necessary.
- (b) The auctioneer will commence and advance the bidding in such increments as (s)he considers appropriate and is entitled to place bids on the Seller's behalf up to the Reserve Price for the lot, where applicable.
- (c) Subject to Condition 7(a), the contract between the Buyer and the Seller is concluded on the striking of the auctioneer's hammer.
- (d) Any post-auction sale of lots shall incorporate these Conditions of Business.

8. Payment and Collection

- (a) Unless otherwise agreed in advance, payment of the Purchase Price is due in pounds sterling immediately after the auction (the "Payment Date").
- (b) Title in a lot will not pass to the Buyer until M&E has received the Purchase Price in cleared funds. M&E will generally not release a lot to a Buyer before payment. Earlier release shall not affect passing of title or the Buyer's obligation to pay the Purchase Price, as above.
- (c) The refusal of any licence or permit required by law, as outlined in Condition 6, shall not affect the Buyer's obligation to pay for the lot, as per Condition 8(a).
- (d) The Buyer must arrange collection of lots within 10 working days of the auction. Purchased lots are at the Buyer's risk from the earlier of (i) collection or (ii) 10 working days after the auction. Until risk passes, M&E will compensate the Buyer for any loss or damage to the lot up to a maximum of the Purchase Price actually paid by the Buyer. M&E's assumption of risk is subject to the exclusions detailed in Condition 5(d) of the Conditions of Business for Sellers.
- (e) All packing and handling of lots is at the Buyer's risk. M&E will not be liable for any acts or omissions of third party packers or shippers.

9. Remedies for non-payment

Without prejudice to any rights that the Seller may have, if the Buyer without prior agreement fails to make payment for the lot within 5 working days of the auction, M&E may in its sole discretion exercise 1 or more of the following remedies:-

- (a) store the lot at its premises or elsewhere at the Buyer's sole risk and expense;
- (b) cancel the sale of the lot;
- (c) set off any amounts owed to the Buyer by M&E against any amounts owed to M&E by the Buyer for the lot;

- (d) reject future bids from the Buyer;
- (e) charge interest at 4% per annum above Lloyds TSB Bank plc Base Rate from the Payment Date to the date that the Purchase Price is received in cleared funds;
- (f) re-sell the lot by auction or privately, with estimates and reserves at M&E's discretion, in which case the Buyer will be liable for any shortfall between the original Purchase Price and the amount achieved on re-sale, including all costs incurred in such re-sale;
- (g) Exercise a lien over any Buyer's Property in M&E's possession, applying the sale proceeds to any amounts owed by the Buyer to M&E. M&E shall give the Buyer 14 days written notice before exercising such lien;
- (h) commence legal proceedings to recover the Purchase Price for the lot, plus interest and legal costs;
- (i) disclose the Buyer's details to the Seller to enable the Seller to commence legal proceedings.

10. Failure to collect purchases

- (a) If the Buyer pays the Purchase Price but does not collect the lot within 20 working days of the auction, the lot will be stored at the Buyer's expense and risk at M&E's premises or in independent storage.
- (b) If a lot is paid for but uncollected within 6 months of the auction, following 60 days written notice to the Buyer, M&E will re-sell the lot by auction or privately, with estimates and reserves at M&E's discretion. The sale proceeds, less all M&E's costs, will be forfeited unless collected by the Buyer within 2 years of the original auction.

11. Data Protection

- (a) M&E will use information supplied by Bidders or otherwise obtained lawfully by M&E for the provision of auction related services, client administration, marketing and as otherwise required by law.
- (b) By agreeing to these Conditions of Business, the Bidder agrees to the processing of their personal information and to the disclosure of such information to third parties world-wide for the purposes outlined in Condition 11(a) and to Sellers as per Condition 9(i).

12. Miscellaneous

- (a) All images of lots, catalogue descriptions and all other materials produced by M&E are the copyright of M&E.
- (b) These Conditions of Business are not assignable by any Buyer without M&E's prior written consent, but are binding on Bidders' successors, assigns and representatives.
- (c) The materials listed in Condition 1(a) set out the entire agreement between the parties.
- (d) If any part of these Conditions of Business be held unenforceable, the remaining parts shall remain in full force and effect.
- (e) These Conditions of Business shall be interpreted in accordance with English Law, under the exclusive jurisdiction of the English Courts, in favour of M&E.

Morton & Eden Ltd.'s Authenticity Guarantee

If Morton & Eden Ltd. sells an item of Property which is later shown to be a "Counterfeit", subject to the terms below Morton & Eden Ltd. will rescind the sale and refund the Buyer the total amount paid by the Buyer to Morton & Eden Ltd. for that Property, up to a maximum of the Purchase Price

The Guarantee lasts for two (2) years after the date of the relevant auction, is for the benefit of the Buyer only and is nontransferable.

"Counterfeit" means an item of Property that in Morton & Eden Ltd.'s reasonable opinion is an imitation created with the intent to deceive over the authorship, origin, date, age, period, culture or source, where the correct description of such matters is not included in the catalogue description for the Property shall not be considered Counterfeit solely because of any damage and/or restoration and/or modification work (including, but not limited to, traces of mounting, tooling or repatinating).

Please note that this Guarantee does not apply if either:-

- (i) the catalogue description was in accordance with the generally accepted opinions of scholars and experts at the date of the sale, or the catalogue description indicated that there was a conflict of such opinions; or
- (ii) the only method of establishing at the date of the sale that the item was a Counterfeit would have been by means of processes not then generally available or accepted, unreasonably expensive or impractical; or likely to have caused damage to or loss in value to the Property (in Morton & Eden Ltd.'s reasonable opinion); or
- (iii) there has been no material loss in value of the Property from its value had it accorded with its catalogue description.

To claim under this Guarantee, the Buyer must:-

(i) notify Morton & Eden Ltd. in writing within one (1) month of receiving any information that causes the Buyer to question the authenticity or attribution of the Property, specifying the lot number, date of the auction at which it was purchased and the reasons why it is believed to be Counterfeit; and

(ii) return the Property to Morton & Eden Ltd. in the same condition as at the date of sale and be able to transfer good title in the Property, free from any third party claims arising after the date of the sale.

Morton & Eden Ltd. has discretion to waive any of the above requirements. Morton & Eden Ltd. may require the Buyer to obtain at the Buyer's cost the reports of two independent and recognised experts in the relevant field and acceptable to Morton & Eden Ltd. Morton & Eden Ltd. shall not be bound by any reports produced by the Buyer, and reserves the right to seek additional expert advice at its own expense. In the event Morton & Eden Ltd. decides to rescind the sale under this Guarantee, it may refund to the Buyer the reasonable costs of up to two mutually approved independent expert reports, provided always that the costs of such reports have been approved in advance and in writing by Morton & Eden Ltd.
